Taltarni Brut Taché 2008

Region: Victoria 46%, South Australia 32%, Tasmania 22%

Variety: Chardonnay 57%, Pinot Noir 38%, Pinot Meunier 5%

Taltarni is an established household name, known for producing extraordinarily high quality sparkling wines in Australia. Our vineyards in the Pyrenees are the source of two very coveted sparkling wines - Taltarni Brut and Taltarni Brut Taché.

Taché is the French word for 'stained'. At disgorging Taltarni Brut Taché is stained with red wine, which imparts the unique taste and elegant salmon colour. Taltarni's Brut Taché 2008 is a blend of three classic sparkling wine varietals Chardonnay, Pinot Noir and Pinot Meunier.

2008 was a fantastic sparkling vintage in South Eastern Australia, producing wines with great natural acidity and intense fruit flavours. This exquisite sparkling wine was fermented in its original bottle and matured on yeast lees according to traditional methods, creating a final complex and sophisticated sparkling wine style.

Winemaker Comments

An engaging salmon-pink colour enhanced by a fine persistent bead, Taltarni's Brut Taché expresses an assortment of red currant, ripe strawberry and floral aromas and complex yeast characters.
